New Collector Assumes Office and Appoints His Deputies.

> Times-Dispatch Bureau, 109 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., December 1.

The School Board last evening adoptd a resolution indorsing Senator Lassiter's suggestion of the organization of a volunteer cadet battallon among the boys of the public schools of Petersburg, but officially went no further for the present. Several members of the board spoke in hearty terms of indorsement of the plan. The board will give the matter further and careful consideration, and is willing to co-operate in the plans as far as possible, but is not yet fully satisfied as to its authority and powers in the premises. Publicly, Senator Lassiter's suggestions have received wide approval and commendation, and the boys of the public schools are enthuastic over it.

The Rev. F. M. Edwards, D. D. aged of its foremost and most distinguished ministers. He was a highly cultured man, a preacher of great force, and during his ministry filled many of the most prominent of the Methodist churches in Virginia. For years, however, he had been relieved of active work.

Yesterday Willis Cook, an elderly colored farmer, of Prince George county, sold a portion of his crops in this city, and after making purchases, had $35 left, which he tied up in a bag overcoat.

John Jones, a negro sharper from was given permission to ride a short distance with him, as he started home.

Before reaching Blandford, Jones had himself from riding further. Later the robbery was discovered, Jones was arrested by the police and was identified, but only a few dollars were recovered.
